The Bible speaks of demons as real spiritual beings - the angels who fell with Satan, and came to be his servants on this Earth. Satan (Beelzebub) is called the “ruler of the demons”. The Pharisees made that remark after watching Jesus cast out demons. They couldn’t deny the Lord’s power, but didn’t want to accept the divine source of His power.

Satan has many soldiers, but remember, they are limited in both time and action like their leader. When we as believers draw near to God and resist evil, Satan and his demons flee from us. Demons face the same future fate (they will be cast into the Lake Of Fire for all eternity) as Satan; they know this and live in dread of their future judgement. Their increased activity these days is a clear sign that Christ’s return is very near. Rejoice in the knowledge that in Christ you are more than a conqueror, and let your anticipation grow as you eagerly await His swift return.

Matthew 12:24 “Now when the Pharisees heard it they said: ‘This fellow does not cast out demons except by Beelzebub, the ruler of the demons.’”
