

We all experience difficulties and have reasons to be negative, but we shouldn't let those things talk us out of what God wants to do. In today's Scripture, Paul could see an expectancy on this man's expression that he had the faith to be healed. Paul stopped his message and said, "Stand up!" The man jumped up and began to walk for the first time.

The question is, can your faith be seen like this man's was? Can anybody notice that you are expecting to go to a new level? Are you talking like it's going to happen, thinking like it's going to happen, acting like it's going to happen? There should be an expectancy that you are ready to be healed etc, ready to be free, ready to go to a new level. You need to be thinking to yourself, "What I've believed God will do for me could happen today!" When your faith can be seen in your attitude, in your expressions, in how you talk, that is what gets God's attention.

Acts 14:8-9 "...In Lystra there sat a man who was lame. He had been that way from birth and had never walked. He listened to Paul as he was speaking. Paul looked directly at him, saw that he had faith to be healed..."
