

In today's Scripture, it compares a believer to an eagle. It's interesting how an eagle handles challenges such as a crow. When the eagle is out flying, the crow will come up right behind it and harass it, deliberately doing things to annoy it. Although the eagle is much bigger, it can't maneuver as quickly. Instead of getting upset and trying to fight with the crow, it simply spreads out its seven-foot wingspan, catches the winds and rises higher and higher. The eagle can fly at heights the crow cannot.

We all have some 'crows' (unbelievers and false believers) in life - people who try to harass you into conflict, situations that tempt you to lose your peace and get upset. The good news is, you are an 'eagle'. You can go up higher. You can fly where crows can't fly. But if you stay down at their level, get upset with every crow, get involved in battles that don't matter, those are distractions, and they will keep you from your pre-ordained destiny in Christ.

Isaiah 40:31 "...But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint..."
