It is significant that King Saul and his men tried to track down and kill David in the wilderness for years, but David always escaped. Even though Saul had more men, more power, more weapons, and more provisions, he couldn't take David out. There was a hedge of protection around David that the enemy couldn't cross, even though he came very close. God sustained David, protected him, provided for him, and finally brought him through to the miracle of becoming the king of Israel.

You may have things coming against you. You don't see how it is going to work out. However, know that right now, God is sustaining you. There are things happening that you cannot see. He is not letting that loss keep you from your destiny. He is not letting the sickness take you out. He is not letting the disappointment stop your purpose. He is strengthening you, empowering you, pushing back the forces of darkness, and breathing faith and hope into your soul and spirit to keep you moving forward. You do have the power to endure!

Psalm 129:2 "My enemies have never been able to finish me off."
