

In today's Scripture Leah and her sister, Rachel, were both married to Jacob. Rachel was more beautiful, so Jacob didn't give Leah much time and attention. She would have felt inferior, at a disadvantage, not good enough. That doesn't go unnoticed by God, who sees every injustice, every wrong, every tear. Leah went on to have four sons before Rachel had one. Having a son in those days was a big deal. God was saying, "Leah, I'm giving you sons who will cause Jacob to notice you."

So, know that your time is coming. God has some advantages for you that will cause you to stand out. You are not going to live in the shadow of somebody more talented, more beautiful, more successful. God is going to cause you to shine. You are going to excel, you are going to be known, you are going to leave your mark.

Genesis 29:31 "...When the LORD saw that Leah was not loved, He enabled her to conceive, but Rachel remained childless..."
