

When God created the Heavens and the Earth on the first day, He said, “Let there be light”, and light came. There were no skies, no animals, and the Earth was formless and empty, but God said it was “good”. Sometimes we are so focused on our flaws, weaknesses, shortcomings, and how we should be further along that it holds us back. You need to focus on what you are doing correctly, and celebrate that. Find the good along the way, and thank God for the partial. Be satisfied where you are. Don’t try and force anything, because that never works. If you don’t celebrate the good in day one, in the season that you are in, you won’t see day two. If you will be grateful for the good, God will get you to very good.

Genesis 1:3-4 “...And God said, “Let there be light”, and there was light. God saw that the light was good...”
