

John the Baptist was baptizing people and gaining a lot of attention when the Jewish leaders asked him if he was the Messiah. Without missing a beat, John said, "I am not." It's important to know who you are and who you are not. If you don't know this, you can spend your life trying to be someone you are not.

Knowing who you are not will help you stay focused on becoming who you are, because there will always be pressures to be this, to be that, to be the other. If you are trying to be someone you are not, you will be frustrated. There is no grace for it. It will be a constant struggle, like it's always uphill. When you are you, you activate your anointing. The anointing on your life is to be who God called you to be. There's favour, blessings, mercy and grace that is unique to your life. Be confident in what you have. Keep being who God's made you to be, and strive to be the best you can be for Him.

John 1:19-20 "...This was John's testimony when the Jewish leaders sent priests and Temple assistants from Jerusalem to ask John, "Who are you?" He came right out and said, "I am not the Messiah" ..."
