

The Scripture says that God declares “the end from the beginning”. When God planned out your life, He started with where He wants you to end up, and then worked backwards. His plans for you are “to give you an expected end”. The good news is that you don’t end in defeat, in failure, in disappointment, or in heartache. You end in victory, fulfilling your pre-ordained destiny in Christ.

You can live in peace, knowing that in the end, all things are going to work to your advantage. Yes, there will be difficult seasons in your life when it looks as though things aren’t working out. You may be in a difficult season right now, and it may look as though your hope or dream has died. Remind yourself that’s not how your story ends. The Most High God has already planned it for an expected end. If you will keep moving forward, remaining expectant, He’ll weave it all together. He’s already established the end, and no-one and nothing can change that!

Jeremiah 29:11 “...For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end...”
