

Today's Scripture doesn't say you have to earn or make the desires of your heart happen. No, God is going to give them to you. You'll know it's the hand of God because it's going to happen without a struggle. If you keep delighting in the Lord and meditating on His Word, filling your mind with thoughts of hope and faith, then without even trying, you are going to come into your time, and God will give you the desires of your heart. He will exceed your expectations.

You need to trust God's perfect, sovereign timing even when things aren't happening as quickly as you would like. Not every season is a harvest. There are seasons of watering, planting, weeding, and fertilizing the ground. These are important seasons. They are times of testing, when God is seeing how authentic you are and what you are truly made of. Are you going to keep a good attitude and remain expectant even when you are doing the right thing but not receiving the desires of our heart? Exhibit faith, patience and endurance, because you are closer than you think.

Psalm 37:4 "...Delight yourself in the LORD, and He will give you the desires of your heart..."
