

In the Scripture, Rebekah instructed her son Jacob to deceive their father. Jacob turned out to be a deceiver just like her. Jacob's Uncle Laban had the same problem. He deceived Jacob. There was a spirit of deception in that family. It looked as though it would continue from generation to generation. However, at one point, Jacob admitted he was wrong, and God changed him. (Genesis 32) That was the turning point. The curse was broken.

Some of the things you struggle with every day have been passed down to you. The dysfunction, the addiction, the low self-esteem etc. didn't start with you, but it can end with you. God is saying, "I'm about to break its power in your family line." This is a new day, and freedom and wholeness are coming to your house. Put your faith out there and say, "Christ broke the power of this when He rose from the dead. It is finished in our family. We are free indeed."

John 8:36 "...So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed..."
