

When Jesus came walking across the stormy sea in the darkness of night, Peter was the only disciple who had the courage to walk on the water to Him. One can imagine the other disciples saying, "It's too dangerous! Don't go!" But when Jesus told him to come, Peter stepped out into the unknown and walked on water. He didn't let what was familiar and comfortable in his life keep him from getting out of the boat and becoming who he was created to be.

You cannot play it safe your entire life and reach the fullness of your pre-ordained destiny in Christ. What God has in store for your future is going to boggle your mind - the places He wants to take you, the people you are going to influence, the hopes and dreams you are going to accomplish etc. Don't let the what-ifs talk you out of it. "What if I fail? What if they say no?" You'll never know unless you try - it's in the unknown.

Matthew 14:29 ""Yes, come", Jesus said. So Peter went over the side of the boat and walked on the water toward Jesus."
