

In today's Scripture, because Peter obeyed Jesus' instructions to try again after having fished all night and caught nothing, he was blessed with favour and caught so many fish that his net began to tear. Moreover, notice that he had so many fish that his partner's boat was also full of fish. When you are connected to someone who is favoured, as they increase, you will increase from their overflow.

There are blessings that belong to you that are attached to people whom God has put in your life. If you are not seeing any 'fish', evaluate whom you are connected to. You need to disconnect from relationships that are not producing any increase, and connect with people who are experiencing God's favour. You need people who are taking new ground, who think and dream bigger than you, and who will expand your vision and thinking for the new things God has in store. Find, and keep, the correct favour connections in your life.

Luke 5:7 "A shout for help brought their partners in the other boat, and soon both boats were filled with fish and on the verge of sinking."
