

God gave Joseph a dream that he was destined for greatness, but before that dream came true, he went through some very dark places. However, today's Scripture shows how God connected the dots. Being thrown into a pit by his brothers led to him being sold to Potiphar in Egypt, which led to being falsely accused and put in prison. In prison, he interpreted the dreams of the butler and the baker, which led to him interpreting Pharaoh's dream and being put in charge of the nation. Every step was divinely orchestrated, and moved Joseph toward his pre-ordained destiny in Christ.

As was true in Joseph's life, you need to believe that disappointments, betrayals, and setbacks in your life are still very much part of God's Plan. They are moving you little by little into your destiny. God knows what He is doing. What looks like adversity is really the hand of God. Remember, nothing happens without God's permission. Stand strong in faith and remain expectant, because God is connecting the dots for you.

Genesis 50:20 "You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives."
