

Elijah was a great prophet who did many amazing miracles. One day he saw a young man named Elisha, and told him to come and be his assistant. Elisha was from a wealthy family and could have been too proud to take what seemed like a low level position, but he recognized the favour on Elijah's life. He respected the anointing. For years he served Elijah with honour, and eventually, he received a double portion of Elijah's anointing and did twice as many miracles.

When you sow into someone who has great favour, you are going to reap some of that favour. Sow honour into that Manager or Supervisor who is ahead of you. Sow respect into that colleague who is extremely talented. Sow friendship and encouragement into that person who is taking new ground. God put them there to bring you favour. As you connect to them, new doors are going to open for you, and new talents and abilities are going to come out.

2 Kings 2:9 "When they came to the other side, Elijah said to Elisha, "Tell me what I can do for you before I am taken away." Elisha replied, "Please let me inherit a double share of your spirit and become your successor.""
