

It's easy to go through life feeling disqualified because of past mistakes we've made, or negative things people have spoken over us, or even our own thoughts telling us how we don't measure up. But when God needed someone to save the Israeli spies whom Joshua had sent into the city of Jericho, of all the people He could have chosen, He chose a prostitute by the name of Rahab - someone who had made a mess of her life. People saw her failures, but God saw her potential. Here's how amazing God is: not only were Rahab and her family spared, but Rahab married a Jewish man, and they and their descendants are in the family line of Jesus Christ!

God wants to make your life significant and purposeful. People may have written you off, but God has written you in. He has already qualified you, so don't disqualify yourself. Remember, He has the final say. He says, "You are blessed, you are redeemed, you are forgiven, and your best days are still ahead."

Joshua 6:25 "So Joshua spared Rahab the prostitute and her relatives who were with her in the house, because she had hidden the spies Joshua sent to Jericho. She lives among the Israelites to this day."
