

The Scripture says that when we acknowledge God in all our ways, He will direct our path. God has the wisdom, the guidance, and the direction we need, but it doesn't happen automatically. Every morning you need to say to Him: "God, I'm ready for my assignment. Show me what to do and where to go, give me the words to speak, and make the path clear." This is a daily act of surrender.

Too often we make our plans without first consulting God, and then we ask Him to bless them. That is not the way. Then we wonder why it's a struggle and why we fail. The right way is to first ask God: "God, is this what You want me to do? Should I start this project, should I take this trip, should I make this purchase?" etc. If you feel peace about it, go forward. If not, hold off. God knows what's best for you. He will not only keep you on the right path each day, but He will keep you from making major mistakes.

Psalm 32:8 "The LORD says: "I will guide you along the best pathway for your life. I will advise you and watch over you.""
