

God's 4 types of angels

The Holy Spirit monitors the whole Earth at one time, and picks up signals from everywhere. He can even hear the bird that falls, wherever it is. He's the one who sends out the orders to the angels to go and scatter the enemy forces. Twenty-four hours a day divine forces respond to the Holy Spirit's directives as He senses the need.

Angels do not look inhuman, and no two angels look alike. They are all different heights and sizes, with different hair colour and styles. There is no bearded angel that dwells in Heaven. The angels do not always wear the same clothing, but all their shoes are the same, and although they look like they are made out of copper or metal, they are in fact made of a very, very flexible substance.

The eyebrows of the angels who live in Heaven are higher and more arched than those of a human being, and their eyes are not red-coloured like fire, but dark, and seem almost like rays. Their eyes are penetrating, and to look at them is almost like looking into a pool of fire. It does not make you afraid however, because you can feel their compassion when they look at you. Age wise, they look like young men, aged twenty-five to thirty, whilst the archangel of all the warring angels, Michael, looks about forty.

The first type of angels are the ministering angels who live amongst us. They ride in our cars, live in our homes, and are camped about us all the time. Their orders from God are to take care of us. They look exactly like human beings, and the only way you would know them would be if they disappeared in front of your eyes, or if you saw them do some super-human feat. There are more of these on the Earth than there are human beings. Since they do not dwell in Heaven, they do not have the glow that emanates from the angels who live in Heaven.

The second type of angels are the worship angels. They look like a broad variety of people, men, women, boys and girls; even some that look like small children. Their function is to worship Jesus. These are the only angels with wings. Although they have six wings, they don't really look like wings because they are of a filmy material. The worship angels put two wings over their faces as they bow down. There are two more that drape around their feet like a bride's train, and two short ones on their back. The cherubim and seraphim are a very high order of these worship angels, but they have the same type of wings and the same function. Lucifer (now Satan) was the archangel of the worship angels before his fall.

The third type are the great warring angels who do battle with the enemy. These angels come from the presence of God, and therefore a strong glow radiates from their skin and clothing. Michael is the archangel, Commander In Chief, of all the warring angels.

Then there are the special forces which includes the fourth type, the messenger angels, who God uses to bring announcements and messages to the world. They also work in various ways in the unfolding of God's Divine Plan. The messenger angels also dwell in the presence of God, and glow with that special Heavenly radiance. Gabriel is the archangel of the messenger angels, and his chief purpose is in the unfolding of God's Divine Plan, and in the closing of one chapter of time, and the opening of another.
