

As believers, we do not read the Bible because we want to qualify for God's blessings. We read the Bible to find out about our blessings and inheritance in Christ. If you stop reading the Bible for a few days, you should not feel guilty; you should feel hungry.

God is not pleased with you only on condition that you read the Bible, pray long prayers, and pay your dues. No, absolutely not! He is pleased with you because your trust is in Jesus, who qualified you. The Bible never said that it is your works that qualify you. Today's Scripture verse says that it is the Father who has qualified us, and He qualified us by sending His Son to save us. He has qualified us to be partakers of His favour, healing, provision, love, joy, peace, and well-being. All these blessings are the inheritance of the saints, purchased with the blood of Jesus Christ. We partake of our inheritance by giving thanks to the Father for sending His Son.

There are too many teachings today telling believers what they must do to qualify for this and that. God's way is for us to know that through Jesus, we are already qualified. God will never punish and condemn you again for your sins, because Jesus has already been punished and condemned for you. By trying to qualify yourself for God's blessings with all your Bible reading, praying, and hard work, you are asking Him to assess and judge you according to your goodness and faithfulness. Instead, begin to put your trust in the finished work of Christ and enjoy peace, joy, and every blessing that flows from His unconditional love for you!

Colossians 1:12 "... giving thanks to the Father who has qualified us to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in the light."
