

When life knocks you down, steps on you, takes your health, or squashes your dreams, you just need to get back up again. The way you win some battles is not by defeating them, but by outlasting the opposition. You have comeback power. Some enemies are stubborn. You cannot be weak and give up because it is not happening according to your timetable. You need to outlast the trouble at work, outlast the slow season in your finances, outlast the difficulty in your marriage / relationship etc. We all want God to deliver us from attacks, but if He is not changing it, then it is really simple - you need to keep getting back up and outlast the attacks.

Sometimes we think God has forgotten about us. We have seen Him turn situations around in the past, but a particular problem seems like it won't go away. You need to have a holy determination and say: "Staying down is not an option. I am going to outlast this sickness, this addiction, this injustice, these critics." The victory will come through outlasting it.

Proverbs 24:16 "Though a righteous man falls seven times, he will get up..."
