

It is easy to write off someone because they don't believe as we do, they are making poor decisions, or they are against what we stand for. Too often we try to make them believe, but some things don't happen overnight. Their heart may not be open yet, but at the right time God will soften their heart. Will you keep sowing seeds of love in that friend or family member who shows no sign of changing? Will you keep loving that friend or family member who says they don't believe. Will you keep praying for that co-worker who ridicules believers?

Jesus said your love for one another will prove you are His follower. It's not by your doctrine, not by how many Scripture verses you can quote, not by how right you are, but by how much you love them. Don't judge them. Don't look down because they don't believe as you do. Just keep loving and being good to them. They are in your life because God is counting on you to help them change.

John 13:35 "By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another."
