

Esther was a Jewish orphan girl who was living in exile in Persia. It didn't look as though she would ever achieve anything great. However, God raised her up to become the queen over many other women who came from wealth, influence, and beauty. God's favour caused her to stand out, and it shows that His favour is far more powerful than your CV. Favour took her from the back to the front. Later, Esther used her position to save the Jewish people from a plot to destroy them. One reason God gave her such prominence is that He knew she would use the influence to fulfill her purpose.

Favour is not about having a bigger house, a better car, or more stuff. That is not why God is going to favour you. Favour is given so that you may fulfill your purpose. It is to advance His Kingdom. When your hopes and dreams are tied to helping others, to making the world a better place, to lifting the fallen, then you will come into some of those "such a time as this" moments.

Esther 4:14 "...Who knows if perhaps you were made queen for just such a time as this?"
