

One reason some of us get in a hurry and make bad, impulsive decisions is that we think we are falling behind when compared to other people. Our friend is getting married, our co-worker got promoted, our neighbour moved into a new house etc. We feel we are being left out, are missing out, and need to make things happen. Some people feel they have to compromise themselves to keep a relationship or get a position. If you need to compromise your values, it is never right and will only lead to harm.

What God has put your name on is not going to go to anyone else. What belongs to you will not go to another person. Don't be impatient for God to act. Keep a good attitude, keep growing, keep passing the test. What God has for you is on the way. You are being prepared for what God has prepared for you. The reason it has taken so long is that it is going to be much bigger and more fulfilling than you thought. When you see what God does in your life, you are going to realize it was well worth the wait.

Psalm 37:7 "Be still before the LORD and wait patiently for Him; do not fret when people succeed in their ways..."
