

In Numbers 21, the Israelites were desperate for water in the barren wilderness when they came upon an old dry well. Here the people sang: "Spring up, O well!" even though they couldn't see, taste, feel, or smell water. There was no reason, logically speaking, to believe water would flow out of the well. That is why the Scripture tells us to walk by faith and not by sight. If they had gone by what they saw rather than having faith in the might and power of God, they would have missed this abundance.

In difficult times, you are either going to be singing about the problem or singing about how awesome your God is. He is not limited by the laws of nature. He is limited by what you believe. You need to make declarations of faith when you are in the drought, and break forth into song and praise. Start singing to the promise: "Spring up healing, spring up freedom, spring up abundance, spring up victory", and God will show out in your life in ways you have never seen.

Zechariah 4:6 "So he answered and said to me: "This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabell: "Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit", says the LORD of hosts."
