

In Numbers 17, when the people were questioning Moses's and Aaron's authority as leaders, God instructed Moses to take the staffs from the leaders of each of the tribes of Israel and place them in the tabernacle where God's presence was manifest. These staffs were old walking sticks, dead pieces of wood. The next morning the staff of Aaron had sprouted, blossomed, and even produced almonds. This dead wood that blossomed was proof of who God's leaders were.

God can change what looks dead overnight, whether it's a marriage, a relationship, a dream, or a financial situation. You may think it is going to take years to get well, to restore a relationship, or break an addiction. God knows how to speed it up with one good break, one phone call, one idea. Suddenly, unexpectedly, God can change it overnight. So don't believe the enemy's lies that it is never going to change. Regarding what you think is dead, God is saying: "I can still cause it to blossom."

Numbers 17:8 "Now it came to pass on the next day that Moses went into the tabernacle of witness, and behold, the rod of Aaron, of the house of Levi, had sprouted and put forth buds, had produced blossoms and yielded ripe almonds."
