

As believers, God expects us to be people of integrity. A person of honour is open and honest and true to his / her word. He says what he means, and means what he says. He doesn't have any hidden agendas or ulterior motives and intentions. He doesn't need a legal contract to force him to fulfill his word. People of integrity are the same in private as they are in public. They consistently do what is right, whether anybody is watching or not.

If you don't have integrity, you will never reach your best. Integrity is the foundation on which truly successful relationships are built. Every time you compromise, every time you are less than honest, you are causing a slight crack in the foundation. If you continue compromising, that foundation will never be able to hold what God wants to build. By contrast, God's blessings will overtake you if you settle for nothing less than living with integrity. There is no limit to what God will do in your life when He knows He can trust you.

Song Of Solomon: 2:15 "Catch all the foxes, those little foxes, before they ruin the vineyard..."
