

Do you know what happened when the children of Israel ate the Passover lamb on the very first Passover night? That very night, God liberated the Israelites from severe oppression and freed them from the captivity of the Egyptians. But that wasn't all. The Bible also says there was "none feeble" among the 600 000 men who left Egypt on the night of The Exodus. (Exodus 12:37) However, when you include the women and children, it is estimated that about 2 000 000 to 3 000 000 Israelites were freed that night. Out of these, none, not a single one, came out feeble!

Despite years of harsh and severe labour they had to endure, there was not one who came out sick, not one who stumbled, not one who lacked strength or had mobility problems. Do you think that in the natural, every single one in this nation of slaves, including elderly ones, could have been completely strong and healthy? Of course not. So how is it possible? Something supernatural happened to their bodies on the night of the Passover as they ate the roasted lamb. The children of Israel were filled with divine strength for the journey ahead that God knew would be long, and their youth was renewed like the eagle's. (Psalm 103:5, Isaiah 40:31) If that could happen for the children of Israel when all they had was a natural lamb (the shadow of Jesus, the true Lamb of God that all believers have), how much more should we see our bodies healed, our strength rejuvenated, and every weakness reversed when we partake of the Holy Communion? We have the true Lamb of God, the substance and the reality of the shadow the Israelites believed in. How much more then should we have none feeble and none sick among us!

Psalm 105:37 "He also brought them out with silver and gold, and there was none feeble among His tribes."
