

What would happen if we have a loving attitude that covers others' wrongs and faults? When we hear juicy details about what someone said or did, what if instead of magnifying it and spreading the negative thing around, we cover it? What if we don't go around telling anyone what we know that they don't know? When you cover a person's faults, you are on God's side. When you expose them, and use that to discredit them, you are on the wrong side.

Everyone can make mistakes, and everyone has faults and weaknesses. But it is wrong to talk behind other people's backs, to gossip about them, to make them look bad, and even to stir up trouble and sow discord. What they did or said may not be honouring to God, but they are still made in the image of Almighty God. When you speak against them, you are coming against the God who created them. Do not be a gossipmonger. Stay on the high road. If you do, you will see blessings and favour.

Proverbs 10:12 "Hatred stirs up conflict, but love covers all wrongs."
