

Job went through a great trial of his faith. Although he had done nothing wrong, he lost his children, his business, and his health in a short period of time. At first, Job got discouraged and started to get bitter, but he turned it around. When it seemed as though he had lost all hope, he looked up to the Heavens and said: "But I know my Redeemer lives." He was saying: "I know God is still on the throne and will vindicate me." Job made the decision to adopt a fresh new attitude, and when he passed the test, he eventually came out with twice what he had before.

In difficult times, it is tempting to get sour. You need to draw a line in the sand and say: "I am not going to let hurts and disappointments poison me with a bad attitude, and keep me from becoming who I was created to be." You need to let it go. It is over and done with. Keep moving forward. That is what allows God to bring you out better.

Job 19:25 ""But as for me, I know that my Redeemer lives, and He will stand upon the Earth at last.""
