

The psalmist says: "I will declare a decree." A decree was an official written order, usually having the force of law. He was saying: "I am going to start speaking this decree." We can do the same and speak decrees. You should write down your goals and what you would like to see happen in your life. Then declare that decree out loud every day. Something happens when we speak. You are prophesying your future. Those words will change your outlook, and change who you are.

You can personalize your decree, but here are some areas that should be on your decree. "I am strong. I am healthy. I am full of energy. I am passionate. I am talented. I am gifted. I am valuable. I am confident. I have a good personality. I am happy. I enjoy my life. I am a person of excellence. I am full of integrity. I am successful. I am prosperous. I run with purpose in every step. I am blessed. I am victorious. I am a child of the Most High God."

Psalm 2:7 "I will declare the decree: The LORD has said to Me, "You are My Son; today I have begotten You.""
