

In Luke 18, Jesus told a story about an unfair judge who didn't care about people. He tried to ignore a widow who asked him to do something about a person who had done her wrong, but she kept coming to him day after day. Finally, the judge said: "I am going to give you justice, not because I care, but because you are wearing me out with your constant requests." Jesus said that if this unjust judge will take action because the widow kept asking, God will assuredly grant justice quickly to those who ask Him.

When you are in a difficult time, keep reminding God and thanking Him that He promised to give you justice quickly. Keep thanking Him that He is fighting your battles. It is going to happen faster than it looks. God will rush to your defense. He will come to you in haste. It may not have happened yet, but you need to know that God is in a hurry to help you. You are going to see a quick turnaround.

Luke 18:8 "I tell you that He will bring about justice for them quickly."
