

In this new year, wake up your greatness, wake up your dreams, wake up your potential, wake up your business, wake up your career, and wake up that ministry God put in you. It may seem like it is over your head, but you need to understand that you are not average; you are a warrior. You can accomplish much more than you think. You are stronger than you think. You are more anointed and favoured than you think. You are more talented than you think. The dreams and gifts God put in you are much bigger than you think. If you are going to see the fullness of what is in you, you need to see yourself the right way.

Who do you say you are? Don't you dare say: "I am average. I am ordinary." Get in agreement with God and say: "I am a child of the Most High God. I am highly favoured. I am destined for greatness. I am a warrior." When you truly believe, doors will open that you never dreamed would open, and God will take you further than you can imagine.

Joel 3:9 "Wake up the warriors."
