

Our meagre natural mind cannot comprehend the bottomless, limitless, measureless reign of Almighty God. His thoughts and ways are past finding out; His majesty is incalculable; His power is inexhaustible; His lifespan is without beginning of days or ending of ages. He is eternal, Three In One and One In Three, the Source and Sustainer of all that exists, visible and invisible.

That means we have the privilege of living with mystery. We cannot interpret every situation as He knows it to be. Because we are human, we cannot understand all of God's plans and ways, but we can trust His sovereignty. In addition to His holiness, His purity, and His power, are the attributes of love and goodness. He is good in His essence, and all His qualities are good and loving. He cares about every detail of our lives. When things go wrong, we can say: "But my eyes are fixed on You, Sovereign Lord; in You I take refuge."

Psalm 141:8 "But my eyes are fixed on You, Sovereign Lord; in You I take refuge."