

As believers, if we were perfect and never sinned, there would be no need for the grace of God. But all who are honest will admit to seeking forgiveness from God for failures that have been confessed before. At some point, we wonder how much forgiveness God is willing to give us. How many times is God willing to pardon our imperfections? How many second chances do we get? Thankfully, there is no limit to the grace of God: "But where sin abounded, grace abounded much more". (Romans 5:20) When Jonah, one of God's prophets, disobeyed God, "the word of the Lord came to Jonah the second time". (Jonah 3:1) Jonah received a second chance.

If we confess our sins, God is faithful to forgive us. (1 John 1:9) Our past, present, and future sins are covered by God's wonderful grace.

1 John 1:9 "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."
