

For years the Israelites' wheat harvest had been wiped out by locusts, leaving them in a desperate situation. But when they thought they would never see a harvest, God spoke to them and said: "I have seen what has been stolen. I am going to restore what you have lost with an abundance of wheat, wine, and oil." Suddenly God turned it around and brought them into overflow.

It may seem like it is too late, like you have missed your season. No, there is still time. You are going to still get a harvest from all those years you prayed, believed, did the right thing, worked hard, and helped others. That harvest has been stored up, and it is on the way. God is not going to just free you, just heal you, just turn your financial situation around, but He is going to restore what you have lost and you are going to be more fulfilled than you have ever been. You are going to be healthier and stronger. You are going to have relationships better than you have ever dreamed. You are going to overflow with blessings, overflow with joy, and overflow with favour.

Joel 2:24-26 "The threshing floors shall be full of wheat, and the vats shall overflow with new wine and oil. So I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten, the crawling locust, the consuming locust, and the chewing locust...You shall eat in plenty and be satisfied..."
