

In life the lessons “in the house of mourning” are always the deepest. When Jesus faced death, He said: “Nevertheless not My will, but Yours, be done.” (Luke 22:42) Everyone who has suffered, especially in the “house of mourning”, knows that lessons are learned in that ‘house’ that cannot be learned elsewhere - especially not in a party house. It is only in difficult days that the reality of Romans 8:28 hits home - that God is able to cause all things to work together for good.

Embrace the difficult times God allows you to experience. Embrace them as ‘wise teachers’ that will take you deeper into God’s sufficiency.

Ecclesiastes 7:4 “The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.”
