

Three Hebrew teenagers had their hands and feet bound firmly with ropes, and then they were thrown into a fiery furnace for refusing to bow to King Nebuchadnezzar's golden idol. This seemed like an impossible situation for survival. But in that furnace, the only thing that burned were the cords that held them bound. God was showing us that there is no bondage the enemy puts on you that He cannot break. There is no addiction, no depression, no sickness that He cannot free you from. Yes, there will be opposition. The enemy will try to bind and restrict in any way he can. Sometimes your health / the medical report is not good, or your child is off course, or the addiction seems permanent. Those cords are only temporary. Your time of release is coming.

God wants us to see Him not just as a God who protects, but as a God who frees from oppression, who breaks bondages, and who releases you from what has confined you. The same God who burned up the ropes that held the teenagers captive, is about to burn up what is restricting you.

Daniel 3:25 "'Look!' he answered, 'I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire; and they are not hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God.'"
