

How much more peace would we have if we didn't retaliate when we are insulted, didn't try to get even, and weren't frustrated when others stir up trouble? Instead of fighting, we should walk away and leave the issue in God's hands, knowing He is fighting for us. Why live all stressed out, with high blood pressure and not sleeping well because we are trying to solve the case, prove the case, win the case? This can save you a lot of heartache. When you leave that case with God, He will make the wrongs right.

He has heard the negative comments, seen the betrayal, the offense, the jealousy. None of that can keep you from your destiny unless you let the offense get inside and poison your soul and spirit. You don't need to retaliate. God will vindicate you better than you can vindicate yourself. This takes all the pressure off. It is very freeing when you understand that you don't need to change people or convince them to be for you. Just keep taking the high road, honouring God, and He will get you to where you are supposed to be.

1 Peter 2:23 "He did not retaliate when He was insulted, nor threaten revenge when He suffered. He left His case in the hands of God, who always judges fairly."
