

In Acts 9, Jesus appeared to Saul of Tarsus, who was the biggest enemy of the early church, having instigated a wave of persecution that scattered the believers. On Saul's way to Damascus with the authority to put believers in prison, Jesus appeared and spoke to him. That day was his turning point. He became a follower of Christ, and his name was changed to the apostle Paul. He went from being the biggest threat to the biggest asset of the church, writing a large portion of the New Testament. He told the Galatians that God in His marvellous grace had chosen him before he was born to proclaim the good news to the Gentiles, which he never dreamed of doing. Paul was saying: "I thought I was doing the right thing, but God stepped in and showed me what He preplanned for me."

God is not going to let you miss what He has preplanned for you. Like Paul, you are chosen for a purpose. His marvellous grace is for you too. Keep being faithful, and you will see it come to pass.

Galatians 1:15-16 "But even before I was born, God chose me and called me by His marvellous grace. Then it pleased Him to reveal His Son to me so that I would proclaim the Good News about Jesus to the Gentiles."
