

Every Christian has been given spiritual gifts by God as well as natural talents and abilities. Even so, God sometimes calls a believer to a task that seems beyond his / her abilities.

Moses is a good example. Though his first forty years were spent being educated in the royal courts of Egypt, his second forty years were spent as a shepherd in Midian. At approximately age eighty, Moses probably considered himself unqualified for what God asked him to do next: go to Pharaoh in Egypt and lead the Hebrew slaves from bondage to freedom in the Promised Land of Canaan. When God first commissioned Moses to go, his first response was: "Who am I?" God didn't address who Moses was; instead, He addressed who He was: 'I AM WHO I AM' (Exodus 3:14) He promised that He would be with Moses in the task to which he was called.

So, if God asks you to do something for Him and you feel unqualified, you are in the right place to depend on Him.

Exodus 3:11-12 "But Moses said to God: 'Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh, and that I should bring the children of Israel out of Egypt?' So God said: 'I will certainly be with you.'"
