

It is significant that Philip came into a season of great flourishing after he was driven by persecution out of Jerusalem to a city in Samaria. It looked as though nothing good was happening, as though he would just have to endure the difficulties. But God was using that shaking season to get him in a position to flourish and see His favour and blessings in new ways. Philip saw all kinds of miracles in Samaria that he had never seen in Jerusalem. If he had stayed there, he would have missed the fullness of his destiny.

When you are doing the right thing and a door closes, stay in faith. God will open a bigger and better door. Samaria is waiting for you. There is a place of victory, a place of abundance, a place of flourishing that God has already prepared for you. You are going to do things you have never dreamed, discover gifts you didn't know you had, and see favour, abundance, and breakthroughs. Just know that your best days are still ahead.

Acts 8:7-8 "Many evil spirits were cast out, screaming as they left their victims. Many who had been paralyzed or lame were healed. So there was great joy in that city."
