

The heroes of the faith listed in Hebrews 11 were of every age, personality and background: shepherds, Prime Ministers, psalmist, prophets, judges, former prostitute, martyrs, and persecuted. Their circumstances and trials varied widely, but the one thing they all had in common was their strong faith. The Scripture describes them as “of whom the world was not worthy”. However difficult their experience or whatever their need, they found faith as their answer.

Who says that you cannot be a David, a Sarah, a Joseph, an Esther, or a Gideon? Who says you cannot defeat a ‘giant’ of opposition, see the impossible happen, endure years of difficulties and suddenly be promoted, take a stand for what is right and defeat injustice, or break barriers in your family? It is by your faith that you join the list - your generosity, your going the extra mile, your overlooking wrongs, your lifting the fallen, and your refusing to give up when it is difficult. You do have what it takes.

Hebrews 11:38 “...of whom the world was not worthy. They wandered in deserts and mountains, in dens and caves of the Earth.”
